To avoid abandonment of this application, applicant must timely file one of the following replies: (1) an amendment, affidavit, or other evidence, which places the application in condition for allowance; (2) a Notice of Appeal (with appeal fee) in compliance with 37 CFR 41.31; or (3) a Request for Continued Examination (RCE) in compliance with 37 CFR 1.114. The reply must be filed within one of the following time periods: a) <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> The period for reply expires 3 months from the mailing date of the final rejection. b) <input type="checkbox"/> The period for reply expires on: (1) the mailing date of this Advisory Action, or (2) the date set forth in the final rejection, whichever is later. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of the final rejection. Examiner Note: If box 1 is checked, check either box (a) or (b). ONLY CHECK BOX (b) WHEN THE FIRST REPLY WAS FILED WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF THE FINAL REJECTION. See MPEP 706.07(f). Extensions of time may be obtained under 37 CFR 1.136(a). The date on which the petition under 37 CFR 1.136(a) and the appropriate extension fee have been filed is the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Response to Arguments
Applicant argues that Koshinaka is not prior art under 35 USC 102 (b). The Examiner agrees. The rejection under Koshinaka is withdrawn. However, the rejection under Utiyama and Blei stands.

Applicant further argues "Applicant respectfully points out that the Utiyama reference supplied by the Examiner bears no date which allows Applicant to independently verify the publication date thereof. The only date supplied to Applicant was that listed on the Notice of References Cited accompanying the Office Action. Therefore, Applicant respectfully requests that the Examiner specifically provide the evidence showing the publication date of Utiyama, or withdraw this publication as a reference against the pending claims." (Remarks, Page 11, 1) The Examiner directs application to any one of Citeseer, acmweb.org, acm.org, all are well known databases which have the Utiyama reference. At the time of this action, the well known NPL search engine Google Scholar, shows 19 versions of the document. If applicant so chooses to search, the examiner used "utiyama domain independent" and had the reference show up in Google Scholar. The reference will not be withdrawn.

Applicant further argues "By Utiyama's own admission, using a method such as Blei's in combination with Utiyama is only contemplated when training data is available. As such, one of skill in the art would not find it obvious to combine Utiyama and Blei and eliminate the need for training data. Quite to the contrary, Utiyama specifically states that training data use would be needed if such a combination were to occur. Thus, it would not have been obvious to one of skill in the art to combine Blei and Utiyama in the absence of training data and estimate a model parameter using the text itself, as required by independent claims 1, 10, 11, 12, 21, 22 and 23." (Remarks, Page 12, 2) The Examiner disagrees. The combination is not only contemplated when training data is available, Utiyama specifically says "It would be interesting, however, to compare our algorithm with their algorithm for the case when training data is available." (Page 505) Meaning, when training data is available to the algorithm of Utiyama, it could be taken into consideration to make judgements on topic segmentation similar to Blei. Training data would change how the system recognizes topics based on known information, that is what would be "interesting" because it puts both algorithms on a level field for comparison. Therefore, the Examiner still contends that it would have been obvious to someone of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine Utiyama with Blei to avoid using training data for text segmentation so that the method could be applied to text from any domain. The argument is not persuasive. .
